

LICENSING – IP DEVELOPMENT & EXPLOITATION

About the Sector

With its competitive tax and corporate regime and stable regulatory and business environment, Ireland has been described as Europe's "Silicon Valley" - becoming the Hub of choice for technology/IP rich multinationals accessing the EU.

The consequent concentration of expertise, ideas and energy has also resulted in an explosion of technology and IP focused and driven individuals and businesses, establishing a real and vibrant knowledge based economy in Ireland.

We are proud to act for the creators, owners, investors in, and users of, the technology and IP upon which that knowledge economy is built.

Our Experience

We are proud to act for the creators, owners, investors in, and users of, the technology and IP upon which that knowledge economy is built.

Our team advises our clients on the creation, development, exploitation and protection of their intellectual property. We also advise our clients on the use of third party IP and technology for their own business purposes.

Our Clients

We advise domestic and international clients, including clients in the Fintech Space, on the registration, exploitation and protection of their IP.
